The Primary Law Declared Unconstitutional

The Supreme Court "Knocks Out" the Stratton Primary Law.

The Supreme Court on last Saturday by a vote of 5 to 2 declared the Stratton Primary Law to be unconstitutional. The decision, which was an able one, was written by Justice Henshaw and concurred in by Van Dyke, McFarland, Harrison and Temple. Chief Justice Beatty and Garroute dissented.

The law was declared to be unconstitutional because it failed to allow parties polling less than 3 per cent of the vote the privilege of holding a primary and because it allowed members of one political party to vote a ticket of another political party, thereby throwing the existenee of a party into the hands of its enemies. The Court held that self-preservation was the first law of nature, and what was true of individuals was also true of political parties. In other words a political party is a band of individuals associated together for the purpose of accomplishing some desired end, and that this party, however large or small, has the right to peacefully assemble, and declare who shall take part in its proceedings. This the Primary Law failed to allow and for these reasons was declared unconstitutional.

The decision of the Supreme Court now leaves political matters just as they were before the law was enacted and political parties will now hold their own primaries just as they have always held them.

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARIES.

The Democratic Primaries in this county will take place just the same as if the law had been upheld, on Tuesday, August 14th, the only change being that Democratic officials will conduct the primary and be allowed to administer a test, as they always have, and thus prevent those not Democrats from voting. The tickets will be furnished as heretofore and the voters will have an opportunity of voting directly for the candidate, the candidate receiving a majority of the votes being entitled to the delegation.

The Primary Law just knocked out was a bunglesome affair and the people will no doubt rejoice in the fact that it is not law.

Democrats can now conduct their primaries, without interference, in the old way. As the voter has a right to vote directly for the candidate, there will be no necessity of running but one set of delegates.

The mule parried and dodged, John's fist landing on a 4-foot tusk, necessitating a sling in which to carry the injured hand.

Roosevelt is not so almighty strong in New York as some people pretend. His plurality over Van Wyck for governor was only 17,000 and then he had not made quite so much of a show of himself as he has since.

Tax Collector Dillingham and family returned Monday evening from their summer outing at Boonville. They report having had a very pleasant time. Mr. D. succeeded in bringing down two specimens of the "booshay."

Burchard, one of the trustees, has written his resignation and suggests the appointment of Zach Bartlett in his stead.

Bridge Twice Burned.

We are told that nearly two weeks ago a bridge across the creek in Grondorf canyon above the fish hatchery was destroyed by fire, evidently on purpose. Last week the bridge was rebuilt and on Tuesday morning of this week a gentleman who went up the canyon early, found it again burned and the fire still smouldering. Considerable wood is being hauled out over that road. What the object of the incendiary is we do not know.

Thornton-Brunner Wedding.

Last Snnday evening John Thornton of Potter Valley and Miss Pauline Brunner, daughter of Mrs. Donna Brunner, were married at the home of the bride's mother in this city. The wedding was a quiet one, only relatives and a few personal friends being present. Rev. Waggoner of the Christian Church performed the ceremony. The DISPATCH congratulates the young couple and wishes them a long, happy and prosperous journey thru life.

Banker—Thurston Wedding.

From the New Era, published at Carters, Tuolumne county, we learn that Edward Banker, a brother of Monte Banker of this city, and Miss Clara Thurston, a popular young lady of Greenwood in this county, were married in San Francisco Saturday, July 21st. The groom is the sawyer at the West Side's mill at Carters, and the young couple will reside there.

Blake Heard From.

A few days ago Sheriff Smith received information that Blake, the jail escape, was in Crescent City. He immediately telegraphed to an officer there to hold Blake until a Deputy could come after him. Deputy W.F. Ornbaun went to Crescent City, but Blake was not to be found. Later Ornbaun telegraphed to Ukiah inquiring how much money it would take to pay Blake's fine. It would seem from this that Blake had friends there who were concealing him, with a view of effecting a settlement of the fine.

Indian Basketwork.

The Scientific American of July 28th contains a full page with illustrations, devoted to descriptions of the various styles of Indian basket weaving, especially those used at Pomo in this county. The name of Dr. J. W. Hudson is frequently mentioned in this connection. The article says that patrons of savage American fine art are beginning to appreciate Indian basket work. There is no doubt that the Indians of Mendocino turn out the best basket work on the coast.

Death of B. Marks.

B. Marks, the well-known merchant and capitalist, died in San Francisco at 1:15 Thursday morning, August 1st, after a short illness. Mr. Marks was taken ill in Ukiah, but a few days ago, and was taken to his home in San Francisco. Deceased was known thruout Mendocino county where he had large interests and a number of relatives.

He came to Mendocino county in the '50s and became largely interested in the development of the county. We understand he was of late years subject to heart trouble and that was probably the cause of his death. The funeral will be in San Francisco next Sunday.

Killed a Bear.

Wm. Fulwider, the famous bear-hunter of Willits, and Gus Wright killed a large bear the other day on the head waters of the Noyo. The bear was resting on two large limbs when Mr. Fulwider shot it. It lodged in the tree and the two hunters cut the tree down and succeeded in capturing bruin, dead.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK.

Important Occurrences of the Past Seven Days.

Summary of What has Just Occurred. Accidents and Incidents.

King Humbert of Itally was shot dead Sunday evening by an assassin named Angelo Bressi. The king had been attending a distribution of prizes in connection with a gymnastic competition. He had just entered his carriage amid the cheers of the crowd, when he was struck by three bullets from a revolver, one of which pierced his heart. This was about 10 o'clock p. m. The assassin, who said he was from Prato, Tuscany, was immediately arrested, and was with difficulty saved from the fury of the crowd.

King Humbert was a son of Victor Emmanuel and was born March 14, 1844, and ascended the throne of Italy, January 10, 1878. He has ruled with justice and wisdom and was greatly loved by the masses of Italy, notwithstanding the apparent antagonism which has existed between the throne and the Vatican. It is thot the assassination was the result of an anarchist conspiracy. The tragedy is a new shock to the civilized world.

Hon. J. Q. White Returns.

Hon. J. Q. White, who attended the Kansas City convention as a representative of this congressional district, returned home Saturday evening. He was accompanied home from Oakland by his wife, who had been visiting relatives there.

J. Q. was much pleased with the Kansas City convention and said the papers could n't begin to describe the enthusiasm manifested. It was one of the most enthusiastic and spontaneous demonstrations he ever beheld. Bryan is exceedingly strong in the Mississippi valley and is heralded as the greatest living American, says Mr. White. He predicts a sweeping victory for the Democratic party this fall.

As To Electric Lights.

Through inquiries we learn that the incandescent lights heretofore used in this city have all been 16-candle power. In the interest of consumers, and also to encourage householders to use the municipal lights, we would suggest that 8-candle power lights are amply sufficient for use in bed rooms, small kitchens, vestibules and ordinary hallways. Two 8-candle power lights can be furnished for the price of one 16 light. It is a waste of power and a useless expense to use 16-candle lights in small bedrooms, etc. We know of cities in which the plan here suggested has been largely adopted, and the result is a large increase in consumption at a minimum of cost.

Gold Quartz In Mendocino.

We have often heard it said that there is no gold bearing quartz in Mendocino county, but a few days ago we were shown by George Richardson, the electrician, a specimen taken from a four-inch ledge in the northern part of this county, which is very rich in gold. Two pounds of the rock, pounded in a mortar, yielded $2.00 in pure gold. How extensive the ledge is Mr. Richardson does not yet know, but what is in sight is exceedingly rich.

If you want to vote at the November Election Register at once.

CHAMP CLARK'S LETTER

Drift Toward Bryan and Democracy.

THE REPUBLIC IN DANGER.

Many Republicans Revolt at Imperialism.

BRYAN SUPPORTERS STAND FIRM.

Not a Man Who Supported Him In 1896 Is Wavering—Gold Democrats Coming Back—Signs That the G. O. P. Is Disintegrating—Republican Organs Lie to Bolster Up a Losing Cause—Truth About the Clayton-Bulwer Treaty—Fun on the Stump.

[Special Washington Letter.]

"Where are we at?" is a question familiar to the ears of men since a celebrated statesman propounded it to the speaker of the house some years ago. "Where are we at?" is a query causing many statesmen to lose sleep, grow baldheaded and become irritable these hot dog days. "Where are we at?" is a query whose honest and intelligent answer has a tendency to encourage Democrats to be of good cheer everywhere.

I have had extra good opportunities to observe and my conclusion is that the drift is toward Bryan and Democracy, and it will be remembered that a very small drift will give us the victory. While there will be no stampede of Republican voters there will be enough, and to spare, of them to land Bryan in the White House.

Recently I have been traveling through Arkansas, Missouri, Kansas and Iowa indulging in the luxury of joint lectures on "imperialism" with Hon. J. P. Dolliver of Iowa, late candidate for the Republican vice presidential nomination, and Hon. C. B. Landis of Indiana, the great Mormon exterminator at home and Mormon supporter abroad.

It's really a pity about Dolliver. He is young, handsome, brilliant and ambitious. His friends thought him fit for at least second place. I myself helped his boom along all I could, but Mark nipped it in the bud and foisted Teddy the Terror on the ticket. I mourn for Dolliver as a bright young man who fell before Mark's snickersnee.

As for Landis, he thinks polygamy wrong in Utah, but it is the proper caper in the Sulu islands.

Republic In Danger.

But what I started out to say is that this lecturing business with Dolliver and Landis has taken me over a great deal of territory and brought me into contact with a great many people, and I conclude that the drift is toward Bryan and Democracy.

Not only are prominent Republicans quitting the G. O. P.—such men as Governor George S. Boutwell of Massachusetts and Webster Davis of Missouri and Judge Stiles of Nebraska—but the "plain people" are breaking away.

At Winfield, Kan., a veteran of the civil war, wearing a Grand Army button in the lapel of his coat, came to me after the debate and said: "You preached the truth today. You were too young to be in the civil war, but you are doing now what I did then—standing up for the preservation of the republic. I have voted the Republican ticket all my life, but I can't do it any more. The republic is in danger."

On the platform at Atchison, Kan., a young man, son of a great Iowa lawyer and Republican, came up and cordially greeted Brother Dolliver, but made that gentleman sad at heart by saying: "Mr. Dolliver, our folks have, as you know, always been Republicans, but I can't stand this imperialism, and, as Bryan can't do anything with his 16 to 1 theory, even if he is elected, with a hostile senate, I am going to vote for him." Then, to my amazement, Dolliver, after the fashion of a drowning man grabbing at a straw, said to his young friend: "The tail goes with the hide. If Bryan is elected, the Democrats will carry both senate and house."

Then I took out a pad of paper and pencil and demonstrated to the repentant young Republican that the senate is now Republican by 14 majority; that the very best we could hope for is to gobble five senatorial seats now held by Republicans; that, unless there is a regular tidal wave or landslide, we can't capture the senate and that the chances were that we would gain only four seats, which taking off four from the Republicans and adding four to our column, would still leave the Republicans six majority in the senate.

Thus Brother Dolliver and I wrestled for that wavering vote on the depot platform at Atchison, Kan., while waiting for a train, and I prevailed.

And so it goes everywhere—not a man who supported Bryan in 1896 wavering, while voters of every degree are quitting the McHannaites; not by the millions, but in squads—squads in every nook and corner of the country; squads which in the aggregate will give Bryan from 23 to over 100 majority in the electoral college.

The Gold Democrats.

The gold Democrats are also coming into the fold to swell the anti-imperialistic chorus. We are glad to have them back in the house of their fathers. It's the proper place for them—indeed for all who love their country.

Webster Davis, as I predicted in my last letter, is coming in for a great deal of abuse, but I guess Webster can stand it in the cause of liberty and truth. The "rads" can't rub out the fact that until he resigned as assistant secretary of the interior he was put forward as the orator in chief of McKinley's administration.

I make another prediction, and it is this: Republicans like Dolliver will keep on abusing Davis until he gives an expose of his differences with H. Clay Evans, commissioner of pensions, and Ethan Allen Hitchcock, secretary of the interior. When Davis does that, hundreds of thousands of old soldiers will leave McKinley and vote for Bryan, because it is an open secret that the row which Davis had with Evans and Hitchcock grew out of the fact that Davis was the firm and unyielding friend of the old soldiers and that he regularly overruled Evans and that Hitchcock regularly overruled Davis. So that the more the Republicans abuse Davis, the more the old soldiers will vote for Bryan.

Nothing could more clearly demonstrate the disintegration now going on in the G. O. P. than the fact that at the great ratification meeting at Lincoln three of the principal orators were General James B. Weaver of Iowa, ex-congressman; Charles A. Towne of Minnesota, ex-congressman, and Webster Davis of Missouri, ex-assistant secretary of the interior—all once great and shining lights in the Republican party. There are other great men, once pillars in the Republican temple, who were not there in the flesh, but who were there in spirit—such as Senator Henry M. Teller of Colorado, ex-Senator Fred T. Dubois of Idaho, General John B. Henderson of Missouri and Carl Schurz—an illustrous company, surely.

Disgraceful Business.

On the part of Republican newspapers this is to be a campaign of misrepresentation and vilification. That they are doing this systematically there can be no question. They appear to be acting on Voltaire's dictum, "Keep on lying, and some of it will stick."

The Kansas City Journal seems to have earned "the bad eminence" of leading in this disgraceful business.

I never read that sheet that I am not forced to recall the words of Sir John Falstaff on a memorable occasion: "Lord! Lord! how this world is given to lying!"

I submit to a candid world if the McKinley imperialistic party is not in a very bad way when it deliberately resorts to lying and misrepresentation as the only means of bolstering up a losing cause.

This same monumental liar, the Kansas City Journal, said that in our debate at the Winfield Chautauqua the "Hon. C. B. Landis was dignified and argumentative, while Champ Clark was vulgar and abusive," which was another lie. It based its charge against me on the last sentence in my closing speech, which was as follows: "If you desire a pure, economical, patriotic American administration, vote the Democratic ticket, and may peace rest upon your houses. If you desire a wicked and wanton waste of the people's money, a further growth of trusts, a vast standing army and the Republic converted into an empire, vote the Republican ticket and may God have mercy on your fool souls!"

I am willing to stand by that. What is there abusive or vulgar about that? Is stating the truth abuse? Is it vulgar? Isn't the Republican party guilty of wicked and wanton waste of the public money? Isn't it trust ridden and trust supported? Isn't it in favor of a vast standing army? Isn't it endeavoring to establish an empire upon the ruins of a republic? And why should the Kansas City Journal abuse me for stating historic truths? I will tell you why. Because these truths, stated bluntly by me, hurt.

The Journal said that Landis was dignified and argumentative. In the same column it unfortunately gave an extract from his speech in which he declared that instead of the Democratic national convention being held at Kansas City, it ought to be held in the Leavenworth penitentiary! There's dignity and argument for you! That's the Kansas City Journal's idea of dignity and logic!

The Pathway of Duty.

I denounced the statement of Mr. Landis as a vile slander when he made it at Winfield. I denounce it as such now when printed in the Kansas City Journal.

As these letters have twenty or fifty fold more circulation than the Kansas City Journal, I say to it in the words of Shakespeare:

> Lay on, Macduff!
> And damned be he who first cries
> Hold! Enough!

I do not propose to be driven from the pathway of duty by it or by all the Republican newspapers in the land. This is our country—my country—and I intend to contribute my mite to preserve our free institutions for my children and my children's children to the remotest generation.

Hon. Jonathan Prentiss Dolliver is a brilliant orator and an amiable gentleman. I am glad to count him on the list of my personal friends, but he knows a great deal more concerning the history of his country than he did before we met in debate at Spirit Lake, Ia. He learned a lesson on that occasion which he will not forget so long as he lives. I was his teacher. As these letters are intended to be educational in their nature and as other Republican orators are likely to be as shy on history as Dolliver was, I hereby set forth the incident as it happened:

I spoke on imperialism before a teachers' institute at Burlingame, Kan., Monday, June 25. Dolliver spoke there Friday, the 29th. In my speech I lambasted Mr. Secretary of State John Hay for signing the Hay-Pauncefote treaty and denounced it as the most humiliating and disgraceful document to which an American ever put his name, which it is. At the Kansas City convention a Burlingame Democrat astonished me by saying that Dolliver answered that by declaring that the Hay-Pauncefote treaty was simply an amendment to and an improvement on the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, which, he said, was a Democratic treaty negotiated by James K. Polk's administration! I knew that that was not true and thought that my informant was mistaken, but when I went home I hunted up the authorities, made a memorandum of the exact dates and went to Spirit Lake loaded for bear.

Clayton-Bulwer Treaty.

I had the opening and close. Dolliver had the middle speech. In my opening speech I went after Hay and his treaty with Pauncefote without gloves. To my surprise and delight, Dolliver walked promptly into the trap, declaring that the Hay-Pauncefote treaty was an amendment to and improvement on a Democratic treaty—the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, negotiated by James K. Polk's administration. In my closing speech I jammed the truth into him in great chunks, and the truth is that the Clayton-Bulwer treaty was negotiated on the part of Great Britain by Henry Lytton Bulwer and on the part of the United States by John M. Clayton of Delaware, who was not a Democrat at all, but who was secretary of state under General Zachary Taylor, the last Whig ever elected president. So Brother Dolliver found himself in a hole, and at the White Cloud (Kan.) Chautauqua he stated that it was a Whig and not a Democratic treaty!

That Democrats may have all the facts to thump into Republicans I hereby give all the dates touching the Clayton-Bulwer treaty. These facts may be found on page 234 in a government publication entitled "Compilation of Treaties Now In Force, 1778-1899;" also in "Treaties and Conventions, 1889," page 440:

"Clayton-Bulwer treaty concluded April 19, 1850; ratification advised by the senate May 22, 1850; ratified by president May 23, 1850; ratifications exchanged July 4, 1850; proclaimed July 5, 1850." It may be added that that was almost the last official act of President Taylor, as he died July 9, 1850, from eating cherries and ice cold buttermilk. I take pleasure in adding that the man who fought the ratification most bitterly was that immortal Democrat Stephen A. Douglas.

I wish to state emphatically that I do not accuse Brother Dolliver of deliberately or intentionally misrepresenting the Democratic party in this matter. Dolliver is a gentleman. While generally intelligent, he was ignorant in this particular matter. He knows better now. I instructed him. He will never charge the Clayton-Bulwer treaty up to Democrats again. He gracefully came down at White Cloud and charged it to the Whigs, but I set out the facts above in extenso because I have every reason to believe that Republican spellbinders generally make the same mistake made by Brother Dolliver until I operated on his understanding and added to his stock of information at Spirit Lake, Ia.

Having Fun With Landis.

At Springdale, Ark., I also let some light in upon the intellect of Hon. Charles B. Landis of Indiana, when we debated before the Chautauqua assembly there. In referring to the sale of bonds under the Spanish war revenue bill, he declared that the bonds were purchased, not by the rich, but by the body of the people—the farmers, merchants, mechanics, clerks and laborers—when everybody knew that the statement was all tommyrot. Springdale is a fine little city in a fine farming section. We had a splendid audience of about 3,000 people. I concluded to try Sam Jones' plan on Landis, so in my reply I repeated his statement as to the people—the plain people—buying the bonds, and asked all in that audience who were the happy possessors of United States bonds, or who bid on the Spanish war bonds, to stand up and be counted. Not a soul arose although I repeated the invitation urgently. Instead such a mighty roar of laughter burst upon the summer air as to make the leaves quiver on the mighty oaks under which we were speaking. Safe to say Br'er Landis will never repeat that performance—where there is anybody to expose his trick. But other Republicans will do so when speaking alone.

At Winfield, Kan., when Landis and I debated before the Chautauqua assembly I had some more fun with him and again added to his stock of information. He steered clear of making his preposterous assertion about the body of the people buying bonds, but he went into the hole after the fashion of Mr. McGinty on another occasion. In defending the Atlantic City money bill he grandiloquently said: "Why should you fear the banks? The people own the banks!" Once more I tried Sam Jones' plan. We had a magnificent audience; the very cream of the people of the Arkansas valley. In reply I restated the proposition of Brother Landis and invited all who in that splendid audience of 4,000 people owned national bank stock to stand up and be counted. Not a soul stood up. So another of Brother Landis' campaign gags went where the woodbine twineth.

No doubt when alone he will repeat both these thoroughly exploded propositions and Republicans who would not know a United States bond or a piece of national bank stock if they met it in the big road will yell themselves hoarse, and such lying sheets as the Kansas City Journal will continue to publish fables to the effect that "Landis mopped up the earth with Champ Clark." I really enjoy such mopping, and, like Oliver Twist, cry for more.

For President,

WILLIAM J. BRYAN,

Of Nebraska.

For Vice-President,

ADLAI E. STEVENSON,

Of Illinois.

If you want to vote at the November Election Register at once.

September 26th, 1900, will be the last day for registration of voters.

"Trade follows the flag!" Yes, certainly; the trade in tombstones.

Patrick Egan, formerly Republican Minister to Chile, is out for Bryan, and has sent him a telegram of congratulation.

Webster Davis's accession to the great Bryan army is worth a good many thousand votes to our champion and to the cause of anti-imperialism in Kansas. That state is safe for Bryan.

At a recent banquet of the drummers and employees of an eastern wholesale house, at which 351 men were present, a vote for President was taken. It stood 347 for Bryan and 4 for McKinley.

The DISPATCH has the largest circulation and is the most widely read paper published in Mendocino County. Advertisers should take advantage of this fact and advertise in the paper that will bring the greatest returns.

The labor troubles in Chicago, alone, will carry Illinois for Bryan. There is a strike on (or rather a lock-out) there involving thousands of men. The contractors demand that the workmen shall give up their Unions before they will ever discuss terms. Every one of the locked out workers will vote the Democratic ticket, to say nothing of the thousands of German voters in the same State who oppose militarism.

Our San Francisco contemporaries nearly all speak well of the now defunct primary law, and regret its consignment to that limbo of undigested and ill considered enactments to which the Supreme Court holds the keys. An evening paper says the law was working well and was "building up party government in a satisfactory manner." The legislature has no right to confer upon any one, two or more parties exclusive franchises. In attempting to do this, constitutional rights were trampled upon, an onerous rigmarole of red tape was introduced and the power was given to one party to dictate the nominees of an opposing party. The Supreme Court is right.

The Republican party in its leadership has always been opposed to the enforcement of the Constitution whenever that instrument stood in the way of its purposes. This is proven by its history from its very inception. It has always been opposed to and sneered at popular government and has been for forty years gradually poisoning the minds of its followers and insidiously introducing changes as opportunity offered. It is now thot that the time has come when the mask may be partially removed and they may come out more boldly in favor of imperialism. But the people are not all inoculated with the virus of imperialism, and popular government will live, thru the election of William J. Bryan.

HANNA WROTH AT TEDDY.

In his speech before the National League of Republican Clubs at St. Paul on July 17th Governor Roosevelt characterized the Democratic party as being composed of men of lawlessness, disorder and cowardice. This raised such a storm all over the country and especially among the friends of Dewey, Joe Wheeler, Schley and the thousands of Democratic heroes who have demonstrated their unfaltering courage on the stricken field in defense of the flag, that Hanna became greatly alarmed. Hanna and Teddy met last Monday morning and had a hot time. When Hanna began to take off strips of Teddy's hide, Teddy began to deny that he had accused all Democrats of cowardice. He explained that he only meant to include the Kansas City platform Democrats in the charge, which of course includes all Democrats except a few of the gold-bug variety. A paper containing the speech was sent for, and when Teddy pointed out that Dewey and Wheeler were not mentioned in that connection by name, Hanna cooled off a little, and putting their heads together they concocted a little scheme to have a revised edition of the speech printed as a campaign document and let it go at that. But the scheme won't work.

SUPPORTING BRYAN NOW.

The gold Democrats and many others that left the Democratic party in 1896 are gradually falling into line and supporting Bryan and Stevenson this year. We now have a reunited Democracy and success is sure. The following papers that supported McKinley four years ago are now advocating the election of Bryan: Springfield Republican (Ind. Rep.), Philadelphia Times (Ind. Rep), Courier Journal (Gold D.), Boston Traveler (Ind. Rep.), Cleveland Plain Dealer (Gold D.), Charleston News (Gold D.), Montgomery Advertiser (Gold D.), Chicago Chronicle (Gold D.), Nashville American (Gold D).

The taking away of this support together with the 14 German American papers has given the Hannaites the cold chills and they are rushing around the trusts begging for contributions like a drowning man grasping for straws. The days of imperial Hannaism are over and the people are going to have an inning by placing that great commoner, William Jennings Bryan in the Presidential chair.

PLUTOCRACY AND IMPERIALISM.

The Kansas City platform fully recognizes the fact that the battle of the people of 1900 is to be fought on lines different from those which divided the parties in 1896. The world has moved in these past four years. The Republic which was founded on the right of independence and self-government has been shaken to its very base by the repudiation of this great principle by the administration. Militarism has raised its threatening head. The supremacy of the constitution has been denied by the Republican majority in Congress against the warning protest of some of the most steadfast of its own party members. The trusts, which dictated the schedules of the Republican tariff, have grown fat and multiplied under that fostering care, reach up to control the executive as well as the legislative branch of the government. The Republic is in peril. Shall it be rescued or shall it be thrust forward toward the abyss in which lie the wrecks of earlier Republics of history?

This is the great, the vital issue of the coming election. It is the issue, evaded by the Republican party, which the Democracy at Kansas City presents to the people. And we believe that this platform, virile and strong in contrast with the namby-pamby resolutions put forth at Philadelphia, will appeal to the patriotism not only of the Democrats but of many Republicans as well.—Boston Post.

The Hannaite press considers it already necessary to promulgate a series of lies which will continue until November. Last Tuesday's Call, for instance, gives a pretended list of Democratic papers that cannot swallow the financial plank in the Democratic platform, including the Atlanta Constitution, and saying that that paper is "wavering." As we have the Constitution now before us, and read it regularly, we are prepared to say the Call deliberately falsified. The Constitution is making a noble and able fight for the success of the Democratic ticket and will continue to do so.

ALL SORTS.

Teddy Roosevelt is determined to be the whole show himself this campaign, and is therefore causing Hanna and the campaign managers a great deal of trouble. Just give Teddy, the baby calf, a little more rope and he will hang himself before long.

Mrs. Rubber presented her husband with another baby boy last week. It is unnecessary to say it was a bouncing one.

The Hannaite cry of "don't haul down the flag" has weakened since McKinley gave England a big slice of Alaskan territory.

It is real hard to tell what the so-called Republican party will do. However, one thing may be sure—that they will do just the opposite of what their platform declares for.

The McHanna policy of expansion by use of the bayonet may be a good method of extending trade—for the other fellow.

The servants in the White House say they are very much annoyed by the noise occasioned by McKinley's changing his mind so often. They are wrong. Mac has no mind of his own to change. The noise is due to the grating of his conscience.

The McHanna circus has two monstrosities that no other show has ever had—Mac, the boneless man, and Teddy, the toothful baby.

Expansion of our debts and a contraction of the nation's purpose is the imperialist program this year.

The Hannaites still hold to the policy that the people can tax themselves rich.

The policy of extending our trade by a war of conquest is not "panning out" to suit the conservative business men of the country. Our mad effort to gain trade by the sword has cost us over $100,000,000 per year, to say nothing of the 1500 lives lost. And all this to gain a trade of $1,435,000! Better use the sword for a plow share and try that method for awhile.

If you want to vote at the November Election Register at once.

Our imperialistic President declares that "the United States will not declare war upon China on the present showing of facts, no matter what other powess may do." The President is making rapid progress. In consonance with the existing state of things, he is already dropping into imperialistic forms of expression. He seems to have forgotten that Congress alone can declare war, and that Congress alone is the sole judge of what shall constitute a sufficient "showing of facts" upon which to base a declaration of war. But the President is allowing the Hanna influence to urge him on a little too rapidly. The people have not yet consented to an imperial form of government, and the President should not expose his ambitions to the public view too prominently.

"If we mean to save the constitution of our fathers, if we mean to keep this great Republic intact as we received it, we must elect Bryan. There must be no lethargy, no feeling that everything is all right. From now until the election every Democrat must work for his country, for the salvation of the ideas that made it great. The secret plans of the Republican leaders are, 'A strong government, without constitutional limitations.' This is the fight. The lines are drawn. There can be no quibbling. It is the constitution of our fathers against imperialism."—Senator Vest.

PROSPERITY'S ROLLING WAVE.

The wave of prosperity has receded from the great harvester manufacturing companies in Chicago. In the aggregate they usually carry 10,000 persons; but since the 1st of July workmen have been laid off to such an extent that now there is less than one-third of the normal force at work.

Last week at the Deering Harvester Works a normal force of 6000 employees was cut to 3000. The McCormick Harvester Works made a reduction almost as sweeping when in June about one-third of their men were laid off for the summer. The Piano Manufacturing Co. at Pullman is partially closed. The failure of grain crops is the explanation given.

FOR WE FORGET.

Oh Light of Centuries that long hast shone
On all Creation's Lords have done and known,
Thou who hast all revealed to hist'ry's eye
Of flowering governments that bloom and die,
Of kings and kingdoms born to blush and fade,
Of empires reared, perfected and unmade,
Thou whose Divine commission is to trace
The errant course of earth's progressive race:
How beats the parent heart of Deity
Within thy great eternal scope to see
His handywork distorted in the broil
Of men in eager rush to share the spoil?

Peace is no more. And Justice—thou hast flown,
With kindred equity by greedy hands undone.
Plutocracy enthroned the sceptre sways
Behind the mark of democratic ways.
Franchise is a name. Its truer sense
Is shifted in the bribes of opulence,
In fumes of diplomatic craft and wile,
By greater heads concocted to beguile.
Diplomacy is force of arms. Its creed
Is drawn from scrolls of mercenary greed.
Its champions do traffic, in their lusts,
With nations' great affairs and sacred trusts.
And Liberty, the pride of human song,
Forsakes the weak and blesses but the strong.
Like vultures 'round the weaker of the fold
The powers flock and consultation hold;
Await the end, when each shall claim a share
In earth's great meal of Cyclopean fare.

Thou fairest flower of governmental form
That reared thy head despite oppression's storm,
Art thou immune? Shall glory still be thine
When 'neath thy flag men languish and repine?
Where, where is Cuba's king? Let statesmen tell;
Theirs is the power, they know the story well.
What tyrant holds the Porto Rican sway?
There tyranny must be—our Customs say,
That hand of tyranny in power is bent
O'er all men taxed with none to represent.
Of Filipinos never was it said
"All men are equal born." That truth is dead,—
Dead ere the cannon and the bloody sword
Exchanged the Spaniard for the fairer lord.
Though clad not in the Royal purple gown,
Though bearing not upon his head the crown,
None can deny! The king is with us still
And peoples bow to do th' imperial will.

Is this the "white man's burden,"—this the task
By God designed? Can freemen ask
What course, righteous, fair, and just?
What is the Anglo-Saxon's sacred trust?
When men a-civilizing go with might,
What law of earth or heaven names it "Right?"
Is right still right when wrongly it is done?
Is honor honor still when basely won?
Oh! Flag of Hope keep'st thou thy glory still
When floating over subjects 'gainst their will?

O Heart Divine, thou Universal Soul,
Do we approach that rock, that fatal shoal
Whereon have ships of state for ages past
Been wrecked, been beaten down at last?
Our pilot sleeps; our guiding star has set;
Our fathers' God forbear, for we forget.

The War in China

Last week the Dispatch stated that from cumulative evidence it appeared that if the foreign Ministers in Pekin were still alive they were being held as hostages. The Dispatch reached that conclusion independently, from a careful comparison of the jumble of contradictory dispatches coming from Chinese sources. It now seems reasonably certain that that conclusion was correct and that the ministers are being held to force favorable terms from the powers, in case China finds herself unable to cope with the allied powers in war. In the meantime the massacre of Christians and defenceless foreigners in the interior towns and provinces goes regularly on. A Shanghai correspondent of a London paper telegraphed Saturday that a new imperial edict had been promulgated ordering all Viceroys and Governors to endeavor to negotiate peace with the powers whose Ministers are "held as hostages, pending the result of the overtures for the abandonment of hostilities against China." Li Hung Chang seems to consider this hostage scheme all right, having apparently no conception of the enormity of such a crime against international law.

It is now the determination of this Government to rush things toward Pekin. The steamer Hancock sailed Sunday having on board a squadron of artillery and a battalion of marines destined for Taku.

On July 31st the British Admiralty made public a dispatch from Pekin signed by Minister Macdonald as follows: "British Legation, Pekin, June 20th to July 16th, repeatedly attacked by Chinese troops on all sides; both rifle and artillery fire. Since July 16th an armistice, but a cordon is strictly drawn on both sides of the position. Chinese barricades close to ours. All women and children in the British legation. Casualties to date, sixty-two killed including Captain Strouts. A number of wounded in the hospital including Captain Halliday. Rest legation all well, except David Oliphant and Warren, killed July 21st. The German Government has received a similar message from its secretary of legation at Pekin.

Caterpillar Bill.

This is Caterpillar Bill,
Eating hard to get his fill;
On the banks and tariff trusts,
Feeding high before he busts;
With his ear close to the ground—
There the choicest food is found;
Treaties that make England gay,
Drawn by British Johnny Hay,
Canned roast beef from Alger's page,
Standard oil from Mr. Gage,
Jersey trusts from Mr. Griggs,
Cuban thefts from Smith's fat pigs,
Shafter stout and Otis wrong,
Sampson, forwarded by Long,
Corporations from E. Root,
Philippine and other loot—
Scores of criminal aggressions,
Twenty sorts of new commissions,
Civil service to the devil,
Coeur d'Alene and other evil,
Dollar Breeches, Little Breeches,
Boodle, oodle, golden riches,
Subsidies, concessions, banks,
Written on his bulging flanks;—
Not a sign of backbone here
All among these segments queer,
Lots of feet so he can fly,
When he sees Mark Hanna nigh,
Where you'd think to see his spine
Seven gizzards all in line,
And down by his hinder end,
Find "plain duty," gentle friend;
All is grist that comes to mill,
So says Caterpillar Bill.

Slow growth of hair comes from lack of hair food. The hair has no life. It is starved. It keeps coming out, gets thinner and thinner, bald spots appear, then actual baldness.

The only good hair food you can buy is — Ayer's Hair Vigor

It feeds the roots, stops starvation, and the hair grows thick and long. It cures dandruff also. Keep a bottle of it on your dressing table.

It always restores color to faded or gray hair. Mind, we say "always."

"I have found your Hair Vigor to be the best remedy I have ever tried for the hair. My hair was falling out very bad, so I thought I would try a bottle of it. I had used only one bottle, and my hair stopped falling out, and it is now real thick and long."

Look Out, Boys.

The boys who knocked the window lights out of the Baptist church on Saturday night, the 21st of July, would do well to behave themselves in future. The senior members of the church thought it best to not prosecute this time; but the guilty parties will take warning not to damage church property again.

Springer, of 1125 Howard St., Philadelphia, Pa., when she found that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption had completely cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made life a burden. A startling incident of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters,' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. The Dispatch Is Sustained.

Readers of the Dispatch will remember that a few months ago we had a good deal to say about a case which was pending before the Superior Court of Napa county, to-wit, the case of Hugh Buchanan, who was trying to get out of the Napa Insane Asylum on the ground that he was, and had always been, sane. Buchanan killed a man in a drunken brawl at Marysville six years ago. At the instance of Buchanan's brother, who resides in Georgia and belongs to a wealthy and prominent family, a strong fight was made under the defense of insanity. Experts were employed, including Dr. Gardner, Medical Superintendent of the Napa Asylum. Dr. Gardner, in his sworn testimony in the habeas corpus proceedings at Napa, admitted that he received $1500 at Marysville for his services in making out a case of insanity. Upon this admission alone Dr. Gardner ought to be removed from the Asylum. Last Saturday the Superior Court, having before it all the testimony given at Marysville and at Napa, adjudged Buchanan to be sane and ordered him delivered to the authorities at Marysville for trial. In the habeas corpus proceedings it was a fight between Buchanan and Dr. Gardner. The latter exhausted every resource in his effort to sustain his former testimony. The conspiracy, through which Dr. Gardner, a State officer, received $1500 and sent a sane man to an insane asylum, was exposed, and Dr. Gardner should be made an example to future "experts."

Rather Informal.

Some time ago the Chicago Inter-Ocean contained a funny little story of how two newspaper reporters adjourned the Illinois State Senate once upon a time, the reading of which called to mind an incident we witnessed not so very long ago in a California Court. An Indian was brought in for trial on a charge of battery committed upon the person of a fellow tribesman. The District Attorney was prosecuting, and Attorney J—— M—— appeared for defendant. A jury of twelve was impaneled without being asked a single question, and two witnesses were examined for the State. At this point in the proceedings the District Attorney arose and addressing the Court, said: "Your Honor, this case has assumed an unexpected phase. The testimony of this last witness is not what I was led to believe it would be, and I therefore ask the Court to instruct the jury to discharge the defendant." The Court so instructed the jury, and added, "you can do this without leaving your seats." At this the jurymen looked at each other in evident embarassment, not knowing how to proceed. Quickly grasping the situation, J—— M——, the defendant's attorney, arose and said: "Gentlemen of the jury, all who are in favor of discharging the defendant will say aye." Chorus of ayes. "All opposed, no." Silence. "Carried unanimously," said J—— M——, and the Court stood adjourned.

One On a Groceryman.

Last Sunday a well known groceryman of Ukiah, whose good wife is conscientiously opposed to engaging in any kind of secular work or amusement on the Sabbath day, stole quietly out of town accompanied by a noted hunter from Petaluma, bent upon a surreptitious day's sport with their rifles. It was wicked to do this on Sunday, but that's not our affair. By and by the bold hunters approached the signal station. Keeping a wary outlook they saw what they thot was a fine buck and immediately began pumping lead. As the object did not disappear, they ceased firing and advanced upon it in double file when they discovered that they had shot sixteen holes thro a tawny colored undershirt belonging to "Old Vet." Afterward they saw three fine bucks standing in good range, but while discussing whether these were old shirts, old does or real bucks, the deer disappeared in the chaparral.

The political caldron is beginning to show some signs of boiling over. Republican friends are getting somewhat over the shock and disappointment over the Philadelphia platform. It is a dish of crow that many of the rank and file of the party will not swallow. Republicans have allways pointed with pride to the record of the administration of the party when in power; but this time they see such a radical departure from the time-honored principles of the government—liberty, equality and justice—and have entered upon a scheme of imperialism; and all this may be read in the record of the administration, and upon that record the Republican party must and will be tried by a long-suffering aud indignant people. The administration seeks to keep its record in the background; but this it cannot do. It has made imperialism the most pressing question before the people, and the whole country recognises this as a fact. The Republican leaders at this late date need not try to flee from the record they have made. They will be held to it to a finish. The Democratic party declared its readiness to place the preservation of our institutions above any and all questions of fiscal policy arising under the constitution, and upon this line will we fight it out.

A Mother Tells How She Saved Her Little Daughter's Life.

I am the mother of eight children and have had a great deal of experience with medicines. Last summer my little daughter had the dysentery in its worst form. We thot she would die. I tried everything I could think of, but nothing seemed to do her any good. I saw by an advertisement in our paper that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was highly recommended, and sent and got a bottle at once. It proved to be one of the very best medicines we ever had in the house. It saved my little daughter's life. I am anxious for every mother to know what an excellent medicine it is. Had I known it at first it would have saved me a great deal of anxiety and my little daughter much suffering.—Yours truly,

Camp Hope Notes.

Camp Hope, July 29, 1900.

On last Wednesday the crew of men who were peeling bark for L. D. Grant, finished peeling.

Camp Hope is situated about four miles from Comptche, supposed to be on the direct line of the new R. R. that is to be, on Robt. Smith's land, and used to be known as the Meyers' tie camp.

The men claim the bark is extra good. The largest tree was 5 ft. 6 in. in diameter and made thirty-seven rings or lengths. They said nothing about the smallest tree.

Robt. Smith has some fine redwood on his land which he expects to ship over the new railroad. Also it will be a good summer resort. There are several good mineral springs on the place. We do not know just what kind of mineral the water contains--perhaps free silver, (if Bryan is elected.) And there must be plenty of game, judging from the amount of hunting that is being done by the bark peelers.

A Ukiah Idyl.

We withhold their names, but they were young and they were walking the old path which leads thru the elysium of courtship to the goal of matrimony. He was practical while she was inclined at times to lapse into a dreamy sentimentality. In their stroll about the premises they finally sat down under a spreading apple tree which was laden with unripe fruit. For a while they said nothing. The young lady was in a musing mood. After a little she glanced up at her companion with a rapt look in her expressive eyes, and murmured, "Hear the wind as it sighs thru the apple-tree boughs." "Yes, he said earnestly, but if you had as many green apples in you as this tree has, you'd sigh too." Silence again for the space of half an honr. The air was balmy, the sun shone unobscured in the heavens and the sparrows twittered among the orchard trees. Suddenly she again looked up with the love-light in her eyes and said: "After all it is much nicer to have the sparrows than the worms." "Well," he replied soberly, "I don't know, I never had the sparrows."

"PROSPERITY AND PATRIOTISM."

The Republican party will make its campaign this year on the "issues" of "prosperity and patriotism." They are claiming credit for the sunshine and rain, the great wheat harvest and the corn prospect, the famines and wars abroad, the treasures in the earth, the salt in the sea, and the fish that dwell in the waters thereof. The breezes blow only by their sufferance and even the corn is compelled to rustle in order to grow without their benediction. The flag of our country has been preempted by the spellbinders, and the eagle's scream has been drowned in the wild clamor and shouts for the offices and appropriations. Theirs is the only brand of true patriotism—all others are base imitations.—Ex.

Editor Not Afraid.

A short time ago a citizen of Ukiah sent a copy of the Dispatch to a friend in a distant part of the State and this week received the following acknowledgement: "I received the Dispatch-Democrat and have just finished reading it. Thank you. I enjoyed it very much. The paper is nicely arranged, newsy, and the editor is certainly not afraid to tell the public what he thinks. I am very glad the Democratic party is so well represented in Ukiah.

Communicated.

Willits, Aug. 1, 1900.

I met an old friend yesterday whom I had always believed to be a regular hard-shell, hide-bound Republican. We were talking of the situation when he broke out: "By George, the convention that met in Philadelphia was not a Republican convention and this is not a Republican administration. I tell you if the trust gang is elected and the government goes on as it has it would be better if the war of independence had never succeeded, now we are under the control of Hay, Salisbury and the money power. Anything that the English government want they get, anything that the trusts want from this administration they only have to order it and they get it. And the black rascals think they can whip me into line by calling this the Republican party. The grand old party is dead—died of corruption and congestion, money congestion in trusts, and then that Porto Rico tariff blunder will not go down with honest men. The people are not fools. The majority of men are honest and want an honest government. It is my plain duty and the plain duty of every honest man to vote for—McKinley, no—but for the nominees of the Kansas City convention and the principles of its platform. I am a Republican, but the aggregation of traitors now masquerading under the name can't get my vote. Whenever an honest party is organized under true Republican principles no matter what the name is I will vote for it." My friend used many adjectives which I have omitted but other Republicans who read this can supply them and will get them in the right place.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constant failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Cleaning House

Once or twice a year the good housewife has a thorough house cleaning. The house has been swept and dusted every day in the year, but the housewife knows that in spite of vigilance dust accumulates in cracks and corners, and is only to be removed by special effort.

It's the same way with the body. You look after it every day. You take all the ordinary precautions of cleanliness and health. Yet the body needs its special cleaning to rid it of the accumulations of waste and poisonous matter which invite disease. Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, taken regularly once or twice a year, would save many a sickness. It purifies the blood, strengthens the stomach, and cleanses the body of poisonous accumulations.

"Last spring I had a severe attack of pneumonia, which left me with a bad cough, and also left my lungs in a very bad condition," writes John M. Russell, Esq., of Brent, Cherokee Nat., Ind. Ter. "I had no appetite and was so weak I could scarcely walk. My breast was all sore with running sores. I got two bottles Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which I believe saved my life. I cannot express my gratitude to you. I am able now to do very good work."

Pronouncement.

To save annoyance to those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for catarrhal troubles, the proprietors prepare Cream Balm in liquid form, which will be known as Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Price including the spraying tube is 75 cents. Druggists or by mail. The liquid form embodies the medicinal properties of the solid preparation.

PEOPLE OF THE DAY.

The latest story told about Kitchener, the misogynist, is the best yet, as it shows that even this stern commander must give way before the tears of a pretty girl.

It seems (and the story is vouched for by a man recently returned from Johannesburg) that while Lord Kitchener was engaged in suppressing the Preiska rebellion he ordered the destruction of a certain farmhouse. Not seeing any signs of his orders being carried out, he rode over with his staff and found an interesting situation. In the doorway of the doomed farmhouse stood a pretty young Dutch girl, her hands clasping the doorposts and her eyes flashing fire from beneath her dainty sunbonnet.

The Irish sergeant in charge of the party of destruction was vainly endeavoring to persuade her to let them pass in, but to all his blandishments the maiden turned a deaf ear, and a deadlock prevailed. Kitchener's sharp "What's that?" put a climax to the scene. The girl evidently guessed that this was the dreaded chief of staff, and her lips trembled in spite of herself.

Kitchener gazed sourly at her, standing bravely though tearfully there, and turned to his military secretary. "Put down," he growled, "that the commander's orders with reference to the destruction of Rightman's farm could not be carried out owing to unexpected opposition. Forward, gentlemen."

Edison's Fellow Worker.

President Henry Morton of Stevens institute is fitted for his place in the Hall of Fame committee by his wide personal acquaintance with famous men. As a worker and an expert in electrical science President Morton fought shoulder to shoulder with Thomas A. Edison in electricity's march of progress.

He was an associate and coworker with the Stevenses of Hoboken, who gave to the world the Stevens battery, the original ironclad that has found its evolution in the modern battleship, and the yacht Maria that defeated the famous America in New York waters before she sailed the first of the international cup races.

President Morton is proud of his "boys"—Stevens institute students past and present. Perhaps the chief source of that pride is the fact that four-fifths of the great electrical and mining institutions in all parts of the world have his former pupils at their head.

Besides being an electrical and engineering enthusiast President Morton is an artist of ability and possesses an excellent collection of modern paintings. Andrew Carnegie is a great admirer of President Morton, this being the reason for the several gifts that the institute has received from him.—New York World.

Will He Yet Be Senator?

William A. Clark's ambition to be United States senator from Montana has produced a combination of situations quite unique. Mr. Clark was chosen by the Montana legislature after a hard fight in which his chief opponent was Marcus Daly. Charges of bribery were preferred against Clark before the senate committee on privileges and elections. The committee was unanimous in favor of unseating Clark, but before action was taken on the report of the committee Mr. Clark resigned his seat in the senate. Later during the absence of Governor Smith from the state, Lieutenant Governor Spriggs of Montana appointed Mr. Clark to fill the vacancy in the United States senate occasioned by his own resignation. Governor Smith protested the appointment, and once more Mr. Clark's toga was hung up in a senate committee room.

THE HOUSEHOLD.

How to Care For Brushes—A Useful Contrivance—Filling For Eclairs.

As hairbrushes need to be washed once a fortnight at the least it stands to reason that unless properly done they will soon be spoiled. The backs should never be damped at all, and the hand in which the brush is held should be kept as dry as possible.

For washing dissolve a piece of soda the size of a walnut in a quart of hot water in which you can comfortably bear your hand, or if you prefer it you can use a tablespoonful of ammonia instead of the soda. Free the brush from all hairs and dip it, bristles downward, in and out of the water till it looks clean. Rinse by dipping in and out of cold water in the same way. Shake as dry as you can, wipe the back and handle carefully and dry at once either in the open air or before a fire, the former if possible. Soap makes the bristles soft, so should not be used for washing. Silver backs of brushes if rubbed daily with a chamois leather will very seldom need a regular cleaning. If, however, you prefer to give a good clean occasionally, moisten a little whiting with alcohol and brush the silver with this. Brush out again and polish with a soft chamois.

The backs and handles of ebony brushes should be rubbed over with a very little boiled linseed oil after washing and then rubbed with a soft duster till every vestige of oil is removed. Special care is needed in cleaning silver initials on these, and only very slightly moistened whiting should be used, or it is apt to leave a nasty white mark on the wood which is extremely difficult to remove. In brushing the whiting off after cleaning be careful not to scratch the ebony, for once scratched it is spoiled.

Ordinary wooden back brushes can be treated with linseed oil in the same way as ebony ones.

Tooth and nail brushes should always be stood in such a position that all water can drain from them.

Household brushes last much longer if taken care of and washed regularly. Remember that they should never be allowed to rest on the bristles.

Long handled ones should be hung up by the heads and short ones either propped upright on a shelf or suspended by a piece of twine. Hearth brushes will last nearly as long again if they are kept hung up.

For cleaning household brushes make a solution of soda by dissolving one pound in one quart of water. Stir over the fire till dissolved, then bottle for use.

Add one tablespoonful to a quart of water. Wash the brushes in this, using also a little soap for the soft hair ones. Rinse in clean cold water and dry in the open air.

Brushes that have been used for paint can be cleaned with turpentine, and spirits of wine will remove varnish.

A Useful Contrivance.

The latest device for lessening the drudgery of the housewife's duties is an adjustable mop wringer. The contrivance is manufactured from band iron and is both light and durable. The wringer can be fitted around a pail of any size for immediate use. Upright bars to the top of which are attached two wooden rollers complete the framework in which the receptacle stands.

When the mop becomes dirty, it is placed between the cylinders, which are then forced toward each other by slight foot pressure on a projecting spring controlling the supports. A gentle upward pull on the handle of the mop completes the cleaning operation. The apparatus saves the window washer and floor scrubber a deal of bother. It is the product of a Jerseyman's fertile brain.

Filling For Eclairs.

A delicious filling for eclairs, to take the place of the thick custard ordinarily used, is a boiled icing beaten in proportion of "half and half" with whipped cream. The icing is made by boiling without stirring one cup of granulated sugar with five tablespoonfuls of water. When the sirup spins a hair, it should be instantly taken from the fire and poured over the stiffly beaten white of one egg. This compound is then beaten till cold and one tablespoonful of lemon juice added. The whipped cream is then stirred in lightly and any flavoring used which may be preferred. The lemon juice is merely to counteract the excessive sweetness.

Substitute For a Pocket.

Now that the ordinary pocket in one's frock is either hopelessly absent or uselessly placed one hails new bags to hang at one's side or carry in one's hand with a positive thrill of delight. The latest and daintiest idea is to have them made of suede dyed to match the color of the frock you have on and, with fine, long, gold chains attached, to be worn twice round one's wrist.

THE HOUSEHOLD.

Dishes For the Sick—A Pleasing Bay Window Effect—Household Hints.

Comparatively few housekeepers appreciate the amount of nutriment that is wasted with every pair of chicken's or fowl's feet that is thrown away. A practical test of the value of these usually despised portions is to boil one pair in a saucepan by themselves until the bones fall apart, and then note the quantity of jelly thus obtained. The feet are the most easily cleansed of any portion of the bird, because the thick outer skin can be removed entire, like a stocking. To do this the feet should not be allowed to boil, as the skin will adhere to the bones, but they should be plunged into hot water, not boiling, and allowed to stand for two or three minutes. The skin will then readily loosen at the top and draw off to the claws. The latter should be cut off.

To make chicken jelly clean and disjoint a chicken, cut it into small pieces, break the bones and place it with the feet, prepared as described above, in a saucepan. Add one pint of cold water for every pound of chicken. Heat slowly, simmer until the meat falls from the bones. Strain, let it stand until cold, remove the fat and season it with salt, pepper and a small piece of lemon peel. Parsley, celery and bay leaves may be used for flavoring if they are desired. Turn into a mold and stand in a cold place to harden. This can be used for broth or soup by thinning slightly with boiling water.

To make chicken soup follow the above directions. Remove the meat when it has fallen from the bones, strain, add a tablespoonful of rice, a small piece of onion, the seasoning, bits of the meat and cook until the rice is done. Remove the onion and serve with croutons, sippets or toast.

Toast should be cut one-third of an inch thick, dried slowly, browned quickly and served hot. It may be served as water, milk or cream toast. A poached egg may be served on any of these.

To make French toast plunge a slice of bread into milk and then into an egg, the white and yolk of which have been beaten together thoroughly and seasoned with salt. Fry a golden brown in butter.

Bay Window Drapery.

The bay window of the illustration is simply but effectively draped. The curtains are of plain brussels net finished on the edge with an insertion and ruffle of lace. These curtains are not continuous, but are shirred upon two parallel brass rods. Another method of hanging the double curtains is to cut them apart, sew the edge to each and then sew the tops together so that the edge of the ruffle shall come even with the plain edge on the opposite side. This can then be shirred upon a single rod. The manner in which these curtains are draped back adds to the effective treatment of the entire window. Small cords and tassels of white cotton are generally used for draping lace curtains.—Housekeeper.

A PLEASING EFFECT.

Household Hints.

Ice can be kept well even during the warmest weather. Wrap it in several thicknesses of flannel and place in the ice chest on four crossed pieces of wood so that no water will accumulate under it.

Ants can be driven away if the places they frequent are sprinkled with oil of pennyroyal.

The smell of onions may be removed from the breath by eating parsley moistened with vinegar.

Mildew stains can be removed by rubbing plenty of soap and powdered chalk on the garment and placing it in the sun. It may be necessary to repeat this operation.

Houses may be kept comparatively cool during the summer months by throwing the windows and blinds wide open in the early morning hours and then closing the blinds for the rest of the day.

Water Ices.

Water ices, which are simply a mingling of fruit juices, water, sugar and whites of eggs, are even more likely to please than ice cream at this season of the year. To make a delicious pineapple ice you will need two large pineapples, one and one-half pounds of sugar, one quart of water, one tablespoonful of gelatin and two lemons. Pare the pineapples and grate them. Make a sirup of the sugar and water by boiling them five minutes; then add the gelatin, which has been dissolved in cold water. When the sirup is cool, pour it over the fruit to which has been added the juice of the lemons. Let it stand an hour or more, then strain and freeze. In freezing turn the crank very slowly at first.

To Fight Moths.

Camphor is much better than moth balls, although a bit more expensive. Every woolen garment that is put away should be taken out and aired and beaten at least twice a month during the hot weather. Insect powder dusted thickly in closets will send a family of the little millers flying out into the fresher air, where they can easily be caught and killed. Wrapping woolen things in old newspapers is a good plan.
